

No man who cares for distinctive dress can afford to overlook the wealth of model and pattern in our ready-for-service

Overcoats for Men at $15 to $65.

The sense of discrimination does not always come with education—but of cultured refinement it is the ground work.

Perhaps not every man can look at an Overcoat and tell just why it is distinctive—but there are few such men.

One glance at any of the many models created by our designers for this season will serve to illustrate our interpretation of the "difference" in Overcoats.

Broad-shouldered effects are the predominant note—wide, ample box backs or very slightly form-tracing effects. The colorings are numerous—including many gradations of tans, grays, browns or Oxfords, in wide assortment of mixtures, stripes, herringbones and plain colorings.

..Manchester News..

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch,
No. 1102 Hull Street.

Progress in the Sharpe case yesterday was much slower than was expected. When court adjourned in the afternoon the Commonwealth had just concluded the testimony of Charles H. Sharpe. It is now certain that the case will not go to the jury before tomorrow afternoon, as the lawyers for the defense will cross-examine Mr. Sharpe in the morning and witnesses will be heard in rebuttal.

There were thirteen indictments brought against Mr. Sharpe, and he is now being tried on the fifth charge—that of appropriating a check of $22, which it is alleged was given him by Greer B. Nicholas in payment for work done by the Water Department. The defense is trying to prove that he did not take the money. Mr. Sharpe while on the stand proved an excellent witness.

The jury sitting in the case is in charge of Sergeant J. G. Saunders, and is spending the time at the Lafayette House. The evenings are spent in the theatres.

To-day the twelve men will attend services at Central Church in the morning and at the Bainbridge Street Baptist Church in the evening.

The members of the jury are: H. A. Lindsay, A. M. Doyle, W. A. Neal, Thomas S. Marshall, A. J. White, W. L. Porter, W. J. Fosse, E. J. Andrews, J. W. Clary, W. H. Blunt, M. P. Ely and J. H. Wallen.

Pay Benefits Promptly.
The secretary of Liberty Council, No. 13, Junior Order United American Mechanics, has received a check for $25, due on the death of Mr. W. H. Wilkinson, who was a member of the order. Only two weeks elapsed between the time of Mr. Wilkinson's death and the receipt of the check. The money comes from the funeral benefit plan of the order.

Leader Theatre.
Next week's attraction at the Leader Theatre embraces three strong vaudeville numbers. Edward K. and Katharine Deagon, in "The Dutch Girl and the Cheap Skate" have what is said to be one of the funniest sketches on the stages. The Geers, in their novelty work, are hard to beat, and Billy Courtwright, in his eccentric comedy, will be a feature never before seen here.

The latest biograph subjects complete the bill.

Church Services.
At Oak Grove Church, of which the Rev. D. G. Lancaster is pastor, the Rev. W. E. Fisher, D. D., the State evangelist, will preach at both services to-day. Special music will be rendered. Dr. Fisher will preach at 7:30 o'clock every night during the week.

The Rev. G. T. Forrester, the pastor, will preach at both services at Decatur Street Methodist Episcopal Church to-day.

The Rev. J. M. Rowland, pastor of West End Methodist Episcopal Church, will conduct the morning service. His subject will be "Man's Faulty Vision." In the evening the services will be conducted by the Rev. O. Ryder, of Richmond, who will preach in the interest of the Anti-Saloon League. The male quartet will sing at this service.

Mr. Charles Smith will preach in Co-ward Avenue Christian Church to-day at both services.

The Rev. J. C. Miles will conduct the services at Clifton Street Baptist Church this morning and evening. At the evening service the Euterpean Male Quartet will sing.

THE LAST INDIAN.

His Bones Are Disturbed When Bank Gives Way.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, VA., December 5.—News reached this city to-day of the finding of the skull and bones of what is thought to be the last remains of an Indian, on the farm of John Cason, bordering on the Currituck Sound. In addition, and at the side of the remains of a skeleton they found three Indian pipes, one red and the other blue. There were also several perfect Indian arrowheads, such as were used by the aboriginal Indians before the discovery of America.

The caving in of the bank of the shore of the sound bordering the farm exposed the bones and relics. The embankment at the point is steep and has been gradually caving away under the action of the tide. It is declared that this particular bank has not been disturbed or excavated in generations, and those making the discovery are confident that the body was buried centuries ago. William Grinstead, of Munden's Point, is in possession of the relics.

Fighting Disease in Schools.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEWBERNE, N. C., Dec. 5.—Dr. Charles Duffy addressed the teachers of the city schools on tuberculosis and other contagious diseases. He gave the history of the diseases and the progress made in fighting the same, and declared that money and cost must not be considered; that the results in Newbern clearly proved what could be done, the average death rate for several years from malarial fevers being twenty-six, while the work done by the City Health Department in the past year or two has brought the rate down to eight per cent. Valued at $5,000 each, the lives saved by the expenditure of a few hundred dollars were worth $90,000. Dr. Duffy gave as his belief that the place to work was in the school, and that by proper and efficient work there all contagious and infectious diseases could be practically rooted out in a little more than the lifetime of a generation. His address was very practical, and created much enthusiasm.

CHAMP CLARK IS MINORITY LEADER

Elected Unanimously at the Democratic Caucus Held Last Night.

SINK PERSONAL JEALOUSIES

Newly Elected Chief Nominated by His Predecessor, Who Interfered Somewhat.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 5.—Representative Champ Clark, of Missouri, was to-night chosen minority leader of the House of Representatives at a caucus of the Democratic members of that body.

Mr. Clark's election was unanimous. His name was suggested to the caucus by the retiring minority leader, Senator-elect John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, yesterday. Resolutions were adopted thanking Mr. Williams for his service to the party on the floor of the House.

According to the leadership Mr. Clark said: "I am profoundly grateful for the great honor just conferred on me—an honor doubly prized because of the unanimity with which it comes. I hope to discharge the numerous and difficult duties of the position so as not to cause you to regret the action of this hour, but I cannot do it, no man can, without the cordial co-operation and constant assistance of his fellow members."

"This co-operation and this assistance I now invoke in the interest of the country and of a great historic party. These interests are largely committed to our hands. To promote them by securing unity of action requires some self-abnegation, some yielding of opinion, some sacrifice of ease on the part of every Democratic member."

Sink Personal Jealousies.

"By conference, by pulling together, by regular and punctual attendance on the sessions of the committees and of the House by sinking personal jealousies, by mutual concessions, we can accomplish much for the welfare of the country and the strengthening of the party of which we are members; for, let it never be forgotten, that 'he serves his party best who serves his country well.'"

"I shall confer with you as frequently as possible, and invite suggestions on the principle that in a multitude of counsel there is wisdom."

"Each member should make himself thoroughly familiar with the business pertaining to his committee, and should be in the House to look after it. I have no policy other than to carry out your wishes, truth to tell, being elected to fill out the unexpired term of my brilliant and long-time friend, Hon. John Sharp Williams, who voluntarily relinquishes the burdens and honors of the position. I feel that his term and his engagement will be carried out so far as two men who think for themselves can agree."

Must Stand Together.

"The chief thought in my mind on this occasion, and always, is that in unity there is strength, and that we must stand together if we would increase the influence of the Democratic party as a factor in public affairs. I feel that I now enjoy the friendship of every member here to-night and of every member who has a right to be here to-night. The fondest wish that I could entertain for myself is that on the 14th of March I will have as many friends as I have on the 5th."

Mr. Clark, in succeeding Mr. Williams, who has been the Democratic leader for six years, takes up the leadership with a united front. He has served in the House he has won the reputation among his admirers of both parties of being one of its most scholarly and eloquent members. As ranking minority member, he has been a member of the Ways and Means Committee he has been well to the front in legislative affairs during the last few years.

Williams Upset Program.

The program for the election of the new leader was disarranged by the retiring leader, Mr. Williams, who did not wait for the man selected to nominate the Missouri Representative, but performed that function himself. As soon as Chairman Clayton, of Alabama, had read the resignation of Mr. Williams as leader, Mr. Stuebel, of Kentucky, presented a set of resolutions thanking Mr. Williams for his services and accepting the resignation. Just as that resolution was adopted Mr. Williams arrived.

He responded to the applause with a speech, which concluded with a prediction of what an excellent leader Mr. Clark would make, not appreciating that the selection had not yet been made. Mr. Henry, of Texas, was to have followed with a speech nominating Mr. Clark, but all he could do was to approve of the manner in which Mr. Williams had performed that task and to second the nomination.

Messrs. Sulzer, of New York; Macon, of Arkansas; James, of Kentucky; Cox, of Indiana, and Simms, of Tennessee, also seconded the nomination. Upon Representative Chandler's motion, the election was laid to the future. Representatives Lloyd, of Missouri; Russell, of Texas, and Bartlett, of Georgia, then brought the new leader into the caucus to tell him the news.

Court Dismisses THE ENTIRE FORCE

Ocean View Constabulary Ousted as Result of Alleged Crooked Dealings.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., December 5.—Five heads of the Ocean View constabulary to-day fell into the basket, and three saloons are to answer to the charge of illegally trafficking in whiskey, as a result of the investigation by Judge B. D. White, of the Norfolk county Circuit Court, of the charges made by William Langigan that he and others operating saloons and gambling places paid Chief of the Constabulary D. P. White for immunity.

The bohemian officials are Chief D. P. White and Constables John Walters, A. Kilgore, E. B. Robbins and E. E. Stephenson. The saloons called to court are the Ocean View Hotel, A. E. Gaylord, operating the Cosmopolitan Hotel, and J. W. Buchanan. Langigan's place was recently pulled and he declared it was done after he had paid for immunity. He turned state's evidence and was pardoned by Governor Swanson. He claims to have paid $25 per week, and W. J. Smith, proprietor of a hotel, testified that he paid White
